

THE DUST BUNNY

BRAND GUIDE

the-dustbunny.com

Don't get left in the digital dust.

This guide covers the brand's identity, visual language, voice, and social media usage — everything needed to create on-brand graphics and content.

01 · OVERVIEW

Brand at a Glance

The Dust Bunny is a freelance web development studio targeting small businesses — specifically those with a site they hate, no site at all, or a digital footprint that's invisible to search engines. The brand delivers big-tech-quality custom-coded sites with SEO and AI SEO baked in from day one.

Brand Name	The Dust Bunny
Website	the-dustbunny.com
Owner	Josh Vogel — Founder · Builder · Bunny-in-Chief
Target Client	Small businesses: no site, bad site, or invisible site

Core Promise	Custom-built sites with SEO + AI SEO — traffic that converts
Tagline	"Don't get left in the dust."
CTAs	"Clean My Site's Dust Bunnies" · "Sweep It"

Design Style

The visual language is vintage comic book / Americana — think mid-century newsprint, Ben-Day halftone dots, bold ink outlines, hard offset drop shadows, action starbursts, and comic-stamp stickers. Bold, tactile, and unapologetically fun.

- Ink outlines: 4px solid black borders on all elements — nothing floats without a frame
- Hard drop shadows: Flat 6px offset box-shadow in ink — no blur, no gradients
- Ben-Day halftone: Dot-pattern texture overlaid on colored fills (8px grid)
- Starbursts / Bursts: Action-style starburst shapes for badges, prices, CTAs
- Comic panels: Content cards use cream fills + thick ink borders like comic panels
- Action lines: Radial speed-line background used on the hero
- Sticker hover: Elements nudge + slightly rotate on hover with bigger shadow
- Speech bubbles: Pointed speech bubble tail on highlight quotes
- 1°/+1° tilts: Slight rotation on labels and stickers for hand-placed feel

What to AVOID: gradients, rounded pill buttons, drop shadows with blur, soft pastels, geometric sans-serif minimalism, or anything that looks like a SaaS startup. The brand is deliberately tactile and printed-not-digital in feel.

03 · COLOR

Palette

Six core colors. Cream is the base — everything else is used as accent, panel fill, or halftone fill. Ink is always the border/outline color.

Cream #f4ead2 Page background / base	Ink #1a1714 Borders · text · shadows	Comic Red #e23b2e CTAs · hero accent · badges	Mustard #f2b93b Starbursts · highlights · selection	Teal #2a9d9b Service tags · secondary accents	Dust #c9b79c Dust · muted fills · footer

Color	Use
Cream #f4ead2	Page background, card interiors, text on dark fills
Ink #1a1714	ALL borders, ALL drop shadows, body text, headlines

Comic Red #e23b2e	Primary CTA buttons, starburst fills, hero headline accent
Mustard #f2b93b	Starburst / burst fills, section label backgrounds, badges
Teal #2a9d9b	Secondary section labels, service card fills, hero glow
Dust #c9b79c	Mascot body color, muted panel backgrounds, footer

04 · TYPOGRAPHY

Fonts

Anton	Role: Headlines / Impact · Source: Google Fonts H1, H2, H3 — all-caps, tight leading (0.95), minimal letter-spacing
Bungee	Role: Display / Logo · Source: Google Fonts Buttons, nav items, stickers, badges — uppercase, tracking-wide
Space Grotesk	Role: Body · Source: Google Fonts Body copy, captions, form labels, small UI text

Rules: Headlines are ALWAYS all-caps. Never use sentence-case on a button or badge. Bungee is reserved for UI labels — don't use it for body copy. Space Grotesk at weight 400–700.

The Dust Bunny

The mascot is the brand's most recognizable visual asset. It is a fuzzy, spiky dust ball with long bunny ears, big cartoon eyes, rosy cheeks, and floating dust-puff motes around it. The mascot appears in the hero, page-transition animation, scroll cameos, loading screen, and as a corner peek-a-boo element.

Colors used

- Body: Dust #c9b79c with halftone fuzz overlay
- Inner ears: Pinkish #e0a89f
- Outline: Ink #1a1714, 6px stroke
- Eyes: Ink fill with Cream highlights
- Cheeks: Comic Red at 30% opacity
- Dust puffs: Dust color, 55% opacity

Usage rules

- Never recolor the mascot's body away from Dust/Cream tones
- Always keep the ink outline — never make it outline-free
- Minimum display size: 80px / 1 inch wide
- On dark backgrounds use as-is (ink outline reads fine)
- On colored backgrounds use the transparent-bg PNG version

06 · VOICE & TONE

How We Sound

The Dust Bunny sounds like a sharp contractor friend — direct, confident, and a little bit funny. Not corporate. Not bro-y. Honest about what we do and don't do. The humor is deadpan Americana, not startup-quirky.

Direct

Get to the point. No filler. Every sentence earns its spot.

Confident

We know what we're doing. No hedging, no apologies.

Conversational

Talks like a real person, not a landing page template.

Playful

Dry humor is welcome. Exclamation-point spam is not.

Grounded

Roots in the South, serving small business — not Silicon Valley.

Examples — actual brand copy:

- "Bad site? No site? Same problem."
- "Don't get left in the dust."
- "From dusty to dominant."
- "Clean My Site's Dust Bunnies"

- "Sweep It" (the form submit CTA)
- "Free Sweep!" (the contact section badge)
- "We dig into your current setup — bad site, no site, or somewhere in between."
